

Prevent Look-alike Poisoning!

- Many poisonous products look good enough to taste.
- If a poison is stored in a food or drink container, someone could swallow it accidentally.
- Some chemicals must be mixed with water before use. If you plan to store the chemical mixture in a different container, apply a label and lock it in a safe storage area.
- Always turn on the lights to read labels before taking medication.
- Safety Tip: If you can't eat or drink it, don't place it in the refrigerator.
- Call the Poison Control Center at 1-800-222-1222 for first aid advice after a poison is tasted, touched or inhaled.
